Thank you for joining us today!

What a pleasure it is to work as a group. I must express how wonderful it has been to experience the growth in our strings group. These students have held their own on their individual parts as well as work together as a chamber group with no director. This demands that they listen to those around them as well as internalize their own parts. What a life skill!

Special thanks to the parents, family, and friends who support these students in their growth. What a joy it is to make music together and to see the wonder it brings to each student.

Your encouragement is so appreciated.

“Teaching music is not my main purpose. I want to make good citizens. If children hear fine music from the day of their birth and learn to play it, they develop sensitivity, discipline and endurance. They get a beautiful heart.”
